A. It appears that we have moved one giant step forward toward accomplishing a goal of real academic significance, as a result of recent overtures from George Washington University. Hi Stout, as Assistant Dean of the School of Government, Business and International Affairs, has permitted Mike Jessup, our GWU contact, to identify the following courses which "could be offered at CIA in International Politics option," toward an M.A. in International Affairs:

Pol. Sc. 171	International Politics
Pol. Sc. 172	Organization and Function of the United Nations
Pol. Sc. 212	Seminar: Comparative Government and Politics
Pol. Sc. 271-72	Problems in International Politics and Organization
Pol. Sc. 274	Methods and Objectives of Foreign Policy
Pol. Sc. 281-82	Seminar: International Law and Relations
Anthropology 263	Culture, Contact and Change
Economics 181-82	International Economics
Economics 251-52	Economic Development
Economics 290	Seminar: International Economics
History 181-82	Diplomatic History of the United States
History 285-86	Seminar: Diplomatic History of the United States
History 249	Seminar: European Diplomatic History

Several of these courses have never been offered before by GWU, even under on-campus auspices.

The Registrar
I have not yet agreed to the proposed list, for I am still hopeful that this concession will lead to a further one which substituting of credit for satisfactory completion of selected OTR internal offerings. Further, <sup>Re</sup> I want to obtain permission for GWU acceptance of CIA theses on ~~classified~~ topics - with all of the security safeguards as now granted to War College students. If these secondary goals can be accomplished it would seem that this device can be an appropriate means of integrating academic education into career planning for mid-career and senior officials. How ~~I fare~~ will depend on subsequent sessions with Hi Stout, for whom an up-dated clearance has been requested.

25X1 B. [ ] has referred to me the request from [ ] for OTR nominations to be considered for Fellowships in Public Affairs at Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School. After examining approved career training files I find only one approval bordering on the topic of concern, i.e., Ray Rackley's "training in World Affairs and problems of intercultural relationships."
25X1 [ ] has reacted favorably to the idea. After talking 25X1 with [ ] it appears that [ ] could profit from the opportunity, and seems to be a more appropriate nominee by virtue of grade as well as by interest and concern with problems of U. S. Government operation and policy. Should Elmer and I work up nomination papers to DDS on either or both of 25X1 these for the [ ] established deadline of 8 January?

A. Arrangements for Dr. Foltz's Effective Listening Program which is scheduled for Friday, 8 January, 1-4:15 p.m.,<sup>25X1</sup> are proceeding well. At this time twenty-two people are already on the list to attend; two of these are Messrs. [redacted] [redacted] I expect about five more to confirm their attendance by Tuesday. The plan for the afternoon as Dr. Foltz has outlined it, plus a biographic summary of Dr. Foltz will be sent to all who will attend.

B. A proposed announcement of GWU's Off-Campus Program for the Agency was prepared for publication as a Headquarters Employees Bulletin. Using this bulletin medium rather than a Headquarters Notice was at the recommendation [redacted]<sup>25X1</sup> [redacted] in the O/DDS Regulations Staff. Previous semester announcements of this program were made in OTR's Special Bulletins. Having listened to complaints from would-be students that they did not see or hear of the after-hours collegiate study, we turned to the Agency bulletin technique. It will be interesting to observe its effect.

C. For [redacted] C/OS/TR, we prepared a numerical report on training done by the School [redacted]<sup>25X1</sup> during the calendar year 1964. This is for his use in briefing the DDS. We have similar information ready for other School representatives to use for their briefings.

C/AIB's coverage for her part of the briefing of Colonel White, on Thursday, 7 January at 4 p.m. is ready for review by AR/TR and R/TR.

25X1 D. Biographic outlines on the candidates for the NIS beginning 25 January will be ready for the DTR about Wednesday of this week since he may need the information on Friday. [ ] will have to have the names of the Agency's candidates on Monday, 11 January.

25X1 E. [ ] had the 25X1 opportunity on Wednesday, 30 December, to hear a great deal about NSA's organization for training. Actually, [ ] of the PPS/OTR/NSA [ ] came 25X1 to learn something of OTRs publications of information pertaining to courses and programs. He learned generally of the way they are prepared and published but we heard more of NSA's publications. The objective of NSA's proposed "training magazine" is quite different from OTRs, particularly in that [ ] ex- 25X1 pects it to carry only feature articles on new trends in education and training. One theme he singled out for special feature is programed instruction, about which NSA has apparently heard 25X1 very little.

25X1 F. C/AIB received word from [ ] office that Alan Warfield, DOL, will be rescheduled for the March [ ] briefing course for senior officials so as to 25X1 make him available for the [ ] management program, also 25X1 for senior officials, 7 - 12 February, [ ] George 25X1 [ ] DDOL, will replace Mr. Warfield in the January [ ] program. AIB has no other names but those of the DDS officers who will take the briefing course.

G. Attendance Report:

W Week of 21-24 December

436 Agency employees in 134 internal courses or programs

3 dependents in 3 courses
